

Measure Y Danville Land Use Rezoning – COCOTAX Supports

- Passing Measure Y is a property rights issue. The property is solely owned by the Magee family. They are a ranching family and among the first pioneers and finest citizens in Danville.
- The land is not open space now – it is private property, owned by the Magee family. If Measure Y passes, 381 acres will become open space, validating the unanimous vote of the Town Council. Just 29 acres will be “clustered” development of 69 homes.
- Included is a link to the Town’s impartial analysis, so you can see the alternative and why the Town prefers what was unanimously voted on as a rezoning of the Magee property. Other documents may be found at this link - <https://www.danville.ca.gov/711/March-3-2020-Election>
- The Measure Y coalition includes taxpayers, parents, ranchers, hiking and bicycle groups throughout Contra Costa County. It is a broad coalition, spanning the political spectrum.
- The Referendum was forced by a small group who have been involved in lawsuits against the Town of Danville for the last 10 years, delaying similar projects.
